Founded in 2002, The Well Project was created to be a trusted virtual resource providing accurate, relevant, and up-to-date information on women and HIV. It is extremely important during this difficult time that we share only trusted, evidence-based information—taking the time to review the source and content of articles, memes, or posts before sharing on social media. We have compiled a list of...
trusted resources* we believe can be useful to our community including women living with HIV, their allies, and healthcare providers.

"We will get through this trying time together. It is important to remember that we are stronger as a community than alone" – Krista Martel, The Well Project’s executive director, in a letter published on March 13: Getting Through COVID-19 Together (Virtually) - The Importance of our Online Support Community [2]

*Information and data on COVID-19 (the new coronavirus) are very rapidly evolving. These resources include general information. Many are frequently updated - so it is a good idea to check the date on each resource after clicking on it. If you are a clinician, be sure to refer to updated sources for more specific recommendations regarding COVID-19. If you have an additional resource to add to this list, please email Olivia Ford [3].

COVID-19 and HIV – Clinical and U.S. Federal Resources

- HIV Not Linked to Increased Risk for Severe COVID-19 [4] (InfectiousDiseaseAdvisor): Recent study results suggest that people living with HIV who acquire COVID-19 are not at greater risk for severe disease or death compared with patients who are HIV-negative.
- Interim Guidance for COVID-19 and Persons with HIV [5] (AIDInfo): Reviews what U.S. people living with HIV and their providers can do in a variety of circumstances during the COVID-19 pandemic, including keeping up with your HIV drugs and staying in touch with your provider.
- What to Know About HIV and COVID-19 [6] (U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention — CDC): Provides answers to many common questions people living with HIV may have regarding COVID-19 about factors including risk, treatment, and stigma. Available in multiple languages (see below).
- Essential COVID-19 & HIV Resources [8] (AVAC): Listing of evidence-based information, webinars, articles, and other resources on COVID-19 and the research underway to treat or prevent it.
- Expanding Access to Health Care for People Living with HIV and Viral Hepatitis During the COVID-19 Public Health Emergency (NASTAD): Three new fact sheets explaining policies and protections that can help ensure safe and comprehensive access to health care.
  - Medicaid [10]
  - Private insurance [12] policies
- How Do COVID-19 Fears Affect People Living With HIV? [13] (POZ; includes video): Two HIV researchers discuss the links between COVID-19 and HIV research and treatment — including hydroxychloroquine.
- Coronavirus (COVID-19) and People with HIV [14] (HIV.gov): Federal resources and information about COVID-19 risk.
